“He never even turned around and said goodbye to us, he was just so happy to be with his friends,” Maureen Sage, the mother of a resident of Noah Homes, said as she described the day her son Ryan moved in. “And you know, that’s what you want for your kids. You want them to be happy, you want them to be surrounded by people who love them… and I would have to say that all of the hopes and dreams that you have for a normal kid, have really come true at Noah.”
Mission Statement
Noah Homes, Inc. is a Catholic organization serving all faiths, whose mission is to provide exceptional residential services and opportunities for adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities. Our goal is to maximize each individual’s independence in a community environment that fosters dignity and respect, as well as personal and spiritual growth. Noah Navigator is a publication of Noah Homes, Inc., a nonprofit 501 (c) (3) organization licensed by the State of California to provide residential care for people with developmental disabilities.

Local and state resources for people with developmental disabilities continue to face budgetary constraints due to rising costs and unfunded minimum wage requirements. Now, new needs related to aging and end-of-life care that do not qualify for additional funding are forcing nonprofit organizations in California that support this underserved population to contemplate closing their doors.

With a growing wait list at Noah Homes – the youngest being 10-years-old – we are working to create a sustainable, exemplary model of free care and services that can be replicated across the state of California. And we’re not doing it alone. We are advocating with others in the Lanterman Coalition in Sacramento at the California State Capitol. Here in San Diego we are excited to meet people and explore opportunities with groups such as the Alzheimer’s Association, the Down Syndrome Center at UCSD, County Supervisor Dianne Jacob, Sam “The Cooking Guy” Zien and many others.

We believe that everyone deserves to live a full and happy life, and we are proud to push the boundaries on what that means for adults with developmental disabilities. We won’t stop until we know that everyone has a quality, lifelong home and we are forever grateful to the community for their support.

Similar to the general population, adults with developmental disabilities are living longer and, for the first time, dealing with issues related to aging. Research states that almost all people with Down syndrome will develop dementia by the age of 60. Being the world’s largest population of people predisposed to Alzheimer’s, a small group of Noah residents had the opportunity to participate in groundbreaking research through the Down Syndrome Clinic at UCSD on the prevention of the disease.

From medical breakthroughs to innovative models of care, we are proud of all the great work we’ve been able to accomplish and we are even more excited to announce big plans for 2015!

NEW RESIDENTS

When Noah Homes has one vacancy it’s big news, but to have two and in the same house is worthy of historical note!

This just happened in Casa de Esperanza. After several months of visits, outings and parties with potential new residents and current residents, the vote is in. Meet Jacquelyn and Tim. Jacquelyn is from Temecula and Tim is a native San Diegan who grew up in Spring Valley. Both have enjoyed the camaraderie of such a dynamic house and they have been welcomed warmly.

We are happy to have both Jacquelyn and Tim as a new addition to the Noah family and we think they are happy to be here!

Checking in with Jacquelyn finds her settling in well and taking an active role in the household chores. She is very proud to show you her room and introduce her roommate Morgan.

As for Tim, just ask him: “Noah Homes chose me to live here with all my friends — ME!”

Tim works with housemate Richard at a Nursery in Lakeside and enjoys the active house. He has already served as an altar boy at a recent mass on campus and worked as a volunteer at the 2nd annual Whispering Winds Camp for families with disabilities.

Saying goodbye to loved ones is never easy. Coming together as a family in these difficult times offers us the opportunity to share both the pain of a loss as well as the celebration of a life lived with those dear to us. On August 11th, the Noah Homes family gathered together to remember: Alyce Coplan, mother of Marilyn (deceased), a former resident of Casa de Esperanza; Kiyoshi Nolan, mother of Vince of Casa de Paz; Elizabeth Nuzum, mother of Liz of Casa de Fe; Velma Scotto, mother of Gloria of Casa de Esperanza. After a celebration of life service led by Father Scott Burnia, who serves on Noah Homes’ board, family members placed engraved memorial stones in the memorial rock garden next to our fountain. All of the people remembered have a special place in our hearts and now in our garden.
REDUCING PAPER

As with many organizations, environmental awareness in the workplace is here to stay. Noah Homes is joining the ranks of businesses going paperless, which will streamline data sharing, benefit the environment and allow for greater office efficiency. Staff is engaged in scanning upwards of 10 large file cabinets of data and 30 years of past documents. Savings are projected due to reduced shredding, and paper and ink purchase. Plus, given Noah Homes’ limited administrative space, going green will open up much needed space.

Did You Know?

You can enjoy our Navigator on your tablet or computer. You can choose to “go green” with us by visiting our website and “opting in” for our digital version.
Among a cheerful crowd of supporters at the Summer BBQ and Brewfest, the Sage Family made a generous donation for naming rights of our new orchard. As a wonderful tribute to their son Ryan, a resident of Casa de Felicidad, a few small trees have already reaped a bountiful harvest for the residents of Noah Homes.

In April of 2014, Rotarians from the La Mesa Sunrise Rotary Club planted 43 dwarf trees on the Noah Homes Campus for the residents to pick and enjoy fresh fruit for years to come. As the word spread about this project, the Linnie Cooper Foundation joined in and added irrigation, lighting and sidewalks to create safe access for all guests.

Watch the new orchard take form and hear from the people who made it all possible.
Over Half Way to Solar Sustainability

By “funding the sun” now with special donations, we do not have to make cuts to resident programs and activities, staffing, and the construction of a dementia care facility advocacy. Thank you for your help!

Immediately reduce monthly energy bills by up to 90% with the possibility for future elimination of bills altogether.

271% return on investment in 30 years!

Generated savings of $1.14 million in 30 years — more than a football field in length of dollar bills!

A lifetime of savings of 4,500 metric tons of Carbon Dioxide (Co2) from the atmosphere over the system’s lifetime, nearly the same amount of Co2 created by a shuttle flight to space.

Contribute to our solar project! Visit NoahHomes.org and click “Donate.”
A big thank you to Peter Ferrantelli and the Ark Angel Foundation for their timely and generous donation of $30,000 that will fund half of the retrofitting needed in the 25-year-old Casa bathrooms, making them more ambulatory and wheelchair friendly. The retrofitting is a huge undertaking and requires installation of new state-of-the-art fixtures, baths, flooring and painting. As our residents age, retrofitting their bathrooms and living areas to accommodate their needs will be an ongoing concern, to ensure their safety.

Noah Homes was the recent recipient of a $10,000 donation from the Knights of Columbus Columbian Foundation #10512, St. Luke’s Council in El Cajon. Starting with new pathway lights to Casa Felicidad, Casa de Fe and Casa Esperanza, the Knight’s of Columbus Council funded Phase 1 of a 5-phase plan to upgrade lighting on our campus. These lights will help ensure the safety of our residents as they continue to age, and also make for a very picturesque campus.
MISSION:

For the past 30 years, Noah Homes has continually blazed new trails and raised the bar on exceptional care for adults with developmental disabilities. Being pioneers in any industry does not come without hurdles and roadblocks. As challenges have presented themselves, it has never been a question of taking “No” for an answer, but rather how do we make the Impossible, Possible. Fortunately, with fearless leadership and incredibly supportive friends and family by our side, we have consistently proven that there is no challenge we cannot overcome together.

With the support of friends, family, policymakers, educators, nonprofits and corporations alike, we are setting forth on our vision of possibilities. Two new dementia care homes in the works at Noah will represent the first of their kind in California and have the potential to become a model for answering the specific needs of our population. As we build and make room for more innovative and top-notch care, families can rebuild confidence that loved ones will not have to leave their homes to deal with the rigors of Alzheimer’s, dementia and other aging ailments.

Med Cottage Makeover

This past spring, the med cottage received a much-needed update. The med cottage is where our folks meet with our Medical Coordinator before they head to appointments with a doctor. It also provides a private office and separate waiting room for the doctors to come to our campus to see our folks in a familiar atmosphere. New flooring was added as well as a workspace for researchers. We received over $26,000 in funding for this project through the 2013 Summer Concert. Thank you to everyone for donating and making this renovation possible!

Thank you to our “Abbey Road” sponsors from our 2014 Summer BBQ & Brewfest!
Building Momentum

When one is not in the business of building homes, but has the land and the support to construct two desperately needed Casas, where does one go for expertise? The answer came in a whirlwind of support for the residents of Noah Homes through the resources and kindness of HomeAid San Diego. This organization’s mission is to help other nonprofits build shelter for those who would otherwise not have a place to live. The extensive waiting list at Noah Homes spoke volumes to Executive Director Alexis Parker and her board of community construction specialists, developers, designers, and civic leaders.

“The need at Noah Homes is great, and we have the resources to get this worthy project off the ground,” said Parker.

Within two months, a group of more than 20 community partners gathered at Noah Homes to launch the design and development stages needed to eventually construct Phase II of Noah Homes residential campus.

“The need at Noah Homes is great, and we have the resources to get this worthy project off the ground.” – Alexis Parker
Noah Homes Raises More Than $150,000

With the goal in mind of helping more people, we are trying out new ideas, including the combining of two annual events into one large BBQ and Brewfest.

We were happy to find we had a lot of support! Karen and Tom Mulvaney helped jumpstart our planning by coming in as the top sponsor. At the event, the Nice Guys outdid themselves, providing hundreds of guests with tri-tip and chicken. With Beatles music played by the Nowhere Men and beers donated from Stone Brewing Co., Jamul Brewing, Ballast Point Brewing & Spirits, Sapporo and BNS Brewing & Distilling Co., friends and family came together to share in our special day.

To kick off the fundraising, the Parker Foundation granted Noah Homes $35,000 towards the installation of the solar panels. The Parker Foundation was founded for charitable purposes leading to the betterment of life for all people of San Diego County and has granted over $42 million since inception.

The Ark Angel Foundation, a single-purpose charitable foundation supporting the work of Noah Homes, also announced $30,000 towards a campus-wide bathroom remodel.

Between generous donations, ticket sales and auction items, an additional $90,000 was raised and will support Noah Homes in sustainability and advocacy. We are forever grateful to our supporters and are excited to share updates on projects as they progress! Make plans to join us next year!

New Learning Opportunity at Summer Luncheons

In addition to our fundraising events, resident activities, and family get-togethers, we offered educational lectures and a free lunch to the community with the hope of bringing new faces to Noah Homes. At our Last Wednesday Luncheon series, attendees learned about topics related to people with developmental disabilities, made new connections and took a tour of the campus. A big thank you to our speakers: Dr. Michael Rafii of the UCSD Down Syndrome Research and Treatment Center; Dr. Eric Linebarger, Chief of Ophthalmology at Sharp Rees-Stealy Medical Group; Dr. Jane Reldan, Family Physician and Voluntary Assistant Clinical Professor with the UCSD School of Medicine; Christy Wilson, Executive Director of the Rancho Santa Fe Foundation; Peter Ferrantelli, Business Executive and Chairman of Noah’s Ark Angel Foundation Board; and Jim Provencher, Attorney, Financial Advisor, and Chairman of Noah Homes Board of Directors.
Volunteer of the Year – Michael Dutcher

Noah Homes acknowledged Michael Dutcher as Volunteer of the Year at our Summer BBQ & Brewfest! Mike has been volunteering at Noah since 2010. In addition to bringing the folks to their evening activities, he picks up and delivers weekly donations that we receive from Bed Bath & Beyond. Mike also joins Casa de Flores every Wednesday night for dinner and some quality time with the residents, including his son Tommy. Noah is very lucky to have such a hard-working and dedicated volunteer. Thank you Mike for all that you do for Noah Homes!

Crafty Volunteers Keep Noah Residents Smiling

With friends like the SPRITES of East County, there is never a shortage of activities for our folks. This group of mother-daughter duos has been active at Noah Homes for many years and serves on our campus in a variety of ways. One Saturday a month, a team comes out for a creative craft project with the folks. SPRITES from the high school class of 2016 also volunteered at the BBQ & Brewfest, painted flowerpots and planted flowers with Esperanza and Fe residents, and helped residents dress up for the Valentine’s ball.

“To the girls, the residents are like extended family and they feel connected to them emotionally. We have played Wii, painted pictures, taken the residents to Aztec baseball games, taken them bowling, and everything we do with them is just so much fun,” said SPRITES mom Christine Bisera. “When we ask the girls at the end of each year what they remember most about the volunteer opportunities they have participated in, the majority of the stories they tell have to do with the residents at Noah Homes.”

SPRITES (Spiritual, Philanthropic, Recreational, Inspirational, Training, Educational, and Social) began in 1968 as an organization to teach teens, grades 7-12, the value of volunteering in their community, while building strong relationships with others.

A Note from
Noah’s Ark Angel Foundation

Dear Friends and Builders of the Ark Angel Endowment,

We’re back with a new look and song. All have heard me say many times “Noah Homes is unequivocally the best place on earth for those with developmental disabilities.” Gaze upon the photos of the residents and come to your own conclusion.

Love is Here to Stay  Words and Music by George and Ira Gershwin

“What a difference a day made – twenty four little hours...Brought the sun and the flowers”

Friends, your gifts bring the “Sun and Flowers”

Recently the endowment answered the call from Noah Homes to help fund the bathroom upgrades. The $30,000 came from dividend and Interest earnings made possible by you. Your donations are still working in the endowment and await another call for help. Those beautiful men and women with smiling faces are happy and you helped to make it happen. We need your continued generosity.

On behalf of the Ark Angel Board, thanks to everyone.
